DAY TWO LIMA - CUSCO

Friday, June 4, 21 Fly from Lima to Cusco. Private transportation to your hotel.

Activity

Upon arrival, your English-speaking guide will transfer you to your hotel and assist with your check in. You will be transferred to lunch at Calle del Medio restaurant. After lunch, start with a visit to Santo Domingo Convent, a large Renaissance-baroque complex, which was built over the Inca Coricancha temple. It was one of the most important temples dedicated to worshipping of the sun, and its foundations are still prominent at the base of the convent. Ancient chronicles say the temple was covered in gold leaf and filled with golden representations of nature. Then, visit the Cathedral, the most imposing monument of the Main Square. Enjoy a nice moment exploring the downtown of Cusco city. Return to your hotel. In the evening, you will be transferred to Incanto Restaurant for a delicious dinner.

DAY FOUR*CUSCO - CHILIPAHUA

---

Sunday, June 6, 21

Activity

This is your first day on the trail. Plan for an early morning departure from your hotel to the Pacchar trailhead, 10,600 ft. where you will begin your trek on the Inca Trail in the Andes. Enjoy coffee and breakfast at the trailhead as the team prepares the gear and horses for the trek. The trail climbs via a small 'pampa' (grassy plains) at Amparaki to the Watuq'asa Pass 12,800 ft. where there is an Inca wall and fortress known as Qosqoq'awarina. You will descend to the small valley called Anapahua, where a small settlement and school called Chilipahua is located. From the school, you will trek approximately 30 minutes up to your campsite, overlooking beautiful views of the surrounding valleys. Approximately 6-7 hours of moderate to strenuous trekking.

DAY FIVE*CHILIPAHUA - CHANCACHUCO

---

Monday, June 7, 21

Activity

This is your second day on the trail. You will awaken to coffee and tea followed by a complete breakfast. You will begin your trek up the valley to the high pass of Chuncachuco. You will see flocks of sheep grazing on the hillside as you ascend a small valley to the open lands of higher elevation. Enjoy spectacular views of the Andes and stop at a favorite picture spot before the final push to the summit. The pass is the highest elevation of the trek at 14,900 ft. Your gradual descent from the summit will take you to a scenic lunch spot near a large pond; a favorite watering hole for the wild horses that frequent the area. Following lunch and a long rest, you will descend across open farmland to your campsite, elevation 13,680 ft. Approximately 5-6 hours of strenuous trekking.

DAY NINE*MACHU PICCHU

---

Friday, June 11, 21

Activity

After breakfast you will take a bus to the entrance of Machu Picchu Citadel. Today you will go to Machu Picchu and climb the Huayna Picchu Mountain (subject to space availability) which means "Young Mountain", as opposed to Machu Picchu. Located north of the citadel of Machu Picchu, it is a mountain of great beauty where the Incas built temples and platforms, attractions that are seen while climbing up the mountain. This ascent takes about an hour and its main attraction is the "Temple of the Moon", a complex of underground constructions likely to have been used by the elite. Once on top, you will have a unique view of the citadel. You will also have the opportunity to visit the Intipunku which in Castilian means "Sun Gate", and is the last stop before entering Machu Picchu if you follow the Inca trail from Ollantaytambo. It was used as a checkpoint and the sun rises every day through this door if viewed from the most important buildings of the citadel. After this, you will have a tour of Machu Picchu. This masterpiece of engineering and architecture is believed to have served as a sanctuary and retreat for the Inca Pachacutec (1438 - 1572). Machu Picchu, which means "Old Mountain", is considered a World Heritage by UNESCO and one of the new seven wonders of the world. At according time, take your bus down to Aguas Calientes town and enjoy the services of your hotel, or explore the handicraft market on your own. Dinner will be served at your hotel.

DAY TWO

PUNO

---

Tuesday, June 15, 21

Activity

Following breakfast, leave the port of Puno to the vastness of Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable lake in the world and part of the border between Peru and Bolivia, two countries that share the Aymara population indiscriminately. The lake covers more than 8 thousand square kilometers and its islands have developed different communities that maintain their ancestral customs and clothing even today. Taquile, Uros and Amantani are the main islands. Your first stop will be at Uros; an ancient society that populates a series of artificial islands made of reeds. Then visit Amantani; a circular island with an average diameter of 3.4 kilometers whose rich highland customs have captured the attention of travelers from all over the world. In the evening, dine at your host's house and then, if desired, participate in a rural musical performance before bedtime.
